Directions: Respond to the following prompts using complete sentences. Don't forget to steal and spit!

The story takes place in 1932. It says "There's no hurry, for there's nowhere to go and nothing to buy... and no money to buy it with." (p3)

What's special about this year and why is there no money?

Walter Cunningham trades hickory nuts for Atticus' legal work. If there was a system of barter in this country and no money, what would you trade to get the items you needed such as food and clothing? Come up with two ideas. Put each one on a side of the box. (pages 4-5)

"The Cunninghams are country folks, farmers, and the crash hit them the hardest." (p5) Explain this quote. Don't forget to write in complete sentences. Be sure to steal and spit! Draw a picture of the Radley house in the box below. Use the description of the house on page 9. Label your drawing. (It should reflect effort, even if your artistic ability is like mine-terrible!)

Read page 10 in the novel to find out who Boo Radley really is. Write a journal entry from Boo's point of view on the story. Tell his side of the story. It should reflect how Boo would have written (remember his education or lack thereof).

Create a wanted poster for Boo Radley Based on his description on page 9. Included should be his physical description, his crime, any behavior analysis and any other helpful or interesting information. Be sure to include a reward that is appropriate for the time.
